Tradition of Excellence Continues at Insperity Invitational in The Woodlands through 2022
PGA TOUR Champions event focused on making positive impact on communities in southern Texas

THE WOODLANDS, TX— On the heels of Bernhard Langer winning his fourth Insperity Invitational title, the award-winning tournament announced golf's greatest names will continue having a positive community impact on and off the golf course in The Woodlands, TX for another three years.

Insperity confirmed the annual Tradition of Excellence will continue at The Woodlands Country Club Tournament Course by extending its title sponsorship of the lone PGA TOUR Champions stop in the Houston area through to 2022.

"This all began when I received a phone call from Mr. Arnold Palmer who encouraged me to take the step and get behind bringing this event to The Woodlands," said Paul Sarvadi, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Insperity, who confirmed the announcement during the 2018 trophy ceremony with Langer.

"Our involvement with this golf tournament led to the launch of Insperity's campaign to reinvigorate small businesses and entrepreneurship in an effort to deliver performance. Bringing golf's best to The Woodlands each year provides a tremendous economic boost for local businesses which supports that corporate mission. I can't think of a better way to honor Mr. Palmer's life than to ensure the Tradition of Excellence continues."

The Insperity Invitational has created a lasting footprint in the community, and on the PGA TOUR Champions. The tournament received the prestigious President's Award as the best event on the PGA TOUR Champions in 2008. Attracting one of the best fields on Tour year-after-year while creating an unmatched experience for its partners and golf fans, the awards continued to follow. The tournament received the President's Award for Excellence in Achievement in 2011 and is a two-time winner (2012 and 2015) of The Players Award for having the "best of everything" for the players, corporate partners and spectators. Interfaith of The Woodlands – one of the local charities benefitting from the tournament – was also named 2016 PGA TOUR Champions Charity of the Year.

"The success of any great event starts with its title partner. With Insperity's leadership and commitment, this tournament has been able to positively change the lives of the people in our community," said Bryan Naugle, Executive Director, Insperity Invitational, who added spectators are given free access to the tournament each year thanks to the financial backing from Insperity and the tournament's corporate partners.

"Insperity's generous investment, both financially and through the volunteer spirit of its employees, provides us with the opportunity to have a lasting charitable footprint on the region, creates networking opportunities for the corporate community, showcases junior golfers in southern Texas, and most importantly, inspires golf fans with a free opportunity to watch their heroes compete for one of the most coveted titles on the PGA TOUR Champions. We are so privileged to have Paul and his team working at our side to make all of this possible."

The tournament has delivered an impressive list of champions over the last 15 years including: four-time winner and reigning champion, Bernhard Langer (2018, 2014, 2008, 2007), two-time PGA TOUR major winner John Daly, Jesper Parnevik (2016), Ian Woosnam (2015), Esteban Toledo (2013), Fred Funk (2012), Brad Faxon (2011), Fred Couples (2010), John Cook (2009), Jay Haas (2006), Mark McNulty (2005) and Larry Nelson (2004).
